N4C President's Message

In earlier President's Messages I have encouraged camera club members to endeavor to obtain more new members. Many camera clubs say that their web site has helped them gain new members. Also I have encouraged members to help young people to get involved in photography.

The April 2007 issue of the photography magazine Popular Photography has an article entitled "The Camera Club Laughs Lasts". It starts out saying that camera clubs were dying out but these days most camera clubs are showing new life and new creativity as they embrace digital photography. Further it tells about the rapid growth of new digital only camera clubs. The article says "With their competitions, instructional and inspirational digital shows, as well as shooting field trips, camera clubs have felt the impact of digital on virtually everything they do".

Next the article talks about peoples' experimentation with image-editing programs, such as Adobe Photoshop and Photoshop Elements. It asks the question "Where do members acquire these digital skills?" Then it answers the question stating "Chances are, its at the camera club." So to keep going and to help the camera club members improve their photography, camera clubs need to really work on the educational aspects of photography. We can be proud that N4C has two very good educational conferences each year. I would like to encourage camera clubs to work on their photography educational programs.

The article further states "Entering competitions

APRIL 27, 28, 29, 2007 is SPRINGBROOK WEEKEND

Springbrook Weekend...Where the morel mushrooms are popping up among the wildflowers...and N4C photographers are popping in to learn about new photo techniques among friends. Don't you miss out on one of the best weekends of the year! It looks to be a busy one. Scheduled programs will include:

On Friday evening...

"A trip to the Eastern Sierras" by Ken Johnson
"The Canadian Rockies" by Ed Siems &

Teresa Vokoun

A welcome to their fall convention by the Central Iowa Club in Marshalltown

On Saturday...

A program/seminar on digital judging by the Digital Committee

"Drive By Shooting" using your vehicle as a blind for bird photography by George Bebout

"My Favorite Photos from 2005" by Wilford Yoder

Set-ups by Gerald Bonsack and Bob Rude

"Making Nature Photographs" by Dr. Tom Rosburg, an environmental science professor from Drake University. He will talk about nature photography - wildlife, landscapes, and plants. He teaches a course in nature photography that emphasizes making photographs in the field and achieving aesthetic impact through content, technique, and composition. Following his two hours of instruction, Tom will most likely lead interested persons on a walk to demonstrate the things he talked about.

N4C NEWS NOTES

President's Note

Connie and I hope to leave Davenport on March 23 to travel to South Carolina for a short vacation and photography trip. We will probably be back home by April 15. South Carolina is the only state that Connie and I have not visited.

In July we hope to go to Boise, Idaho to attend the National Stereoscopic Association Annual Convention. We also hope to do sightseeing and photography while in Idaho.

We hope that you can make it to Springbrook for the N4C Spring Meeting.

Ed Lower
N4C President

Art Crawl Participants

Tom and Margaret Farrell of the St. Paul Camera Club will participate in the upcoming St. Paul Art Crawl, April 20-22. They will exhibit their photographic images with stained-glass artist Josie Geiger, who chose their images as a complementary counterpoint to her own work. Currently she is considering one of the Farrell's images as inspiration for a stained-glass piece.

—St. Paul CC News

Calendar Picture

Bunny Gilbert showed members of the Huron Area Photography Club a calendar which featured a photo she took of a John Deere Tractor. She was paid $200.

Photo Display

The Ames Camera Club now has 26 members, the most in years! They plan to have a display of their pictures at the Somerset Gallery during April. Members say it's always fun to see the photos and hear how or why they were taken.

—Ames CC Leading Lines

Hi,

Sorry to have to run this once more, but we've still got a couple of clubs who haven't paid their dues.

Lyle Glass, Individual Member
North Metro Photo Club

Dues are $1.00 per person with the minimum $10.00 and maximum of $60.00.

Send dues to N4C Treasurer,
Lynda Richards

Travel is a Good Thing

Clark Springman, President of the Lincoln Camera Club, recently returned from a short cruise to the "Mexican Riviera" where he took many photos of palm trees.

"This boy from the farm in Nebraska enjoyed taking pictures of the ocean, ocean sunsets (better than Holmes Lake), seagulls (the big ones, not the water-going "pigeons" that we have here), sea lions in natural habitat, whales (you don't see those in Holmes Lake either), pelicans, frigate birds, albatross, rock formations, suspension bridges... I brought home over a thousand images, and left many hundreds in cyber space over the Pacific Ocean (all of the deletes of images that didn't turn out). I know that is not a lot for digital, but consider that we made only three ports of call.

"The point is, look at all of the photo ops that we got from a single short trip! And, you don't have to 'go to sea;' there's a wealth of beauty nearby...a day's jaunt away will reward you with a lot of new sights to photograph."

Number One Idiot of 2007

I am a medical student currently doing a rotation in toxicology at the poison control center.

Today, this woman called in very upset because she caught her little daughter eating ants.

I quickly reassured her that the ants are not harmful and there would be no need to bring her daughter into the hospital. She calmed down and at the end of the conversation happened to mention that she gave her daughter some ant poison to eat in order to kill the ants. I told her that she better bring her daughter into the emergency room right away.

The cardiologist's diet:

If it tastes good,
spit it out.

is easier than ever". Also it implies that preparing digital images for digital contests is easier than preparing slides for competition. I have found that it takes me two to three times longer to prepare digital images for contests than it takes me to prepare slides for contests. Digital photography has made scoring contests and the record keeping much easier with less people needed to conduct a competition. The article states "The web has also given members a new place to show off their work, as club sites showcase winning pictures."

The Popular Photography article shows images and quotes from people who are members of the Photographic Society of America (PSA). Since I belong to PSA, I know about half of the people mentioned in the article.

Editor,

Thank you for printing my note concerning my lost peacock head slide (last year's finals). Unfortunately I still have heard nothing and this is the 3rd request I have made about it (you and the contest chair).

I feel as if my request is falling on deaf ears because I can't imagine how a slide can vaporize into thin air. Granted, the slide isn't priceless, but it probably is the best peacock head I have ever and will ever take.

Please ask again because I would relish its return.

Thanks! Jean Huibregtse

White Balance

All types of whites aren't the same. The human brain adjusts the color of light for you so that you perceive sunlight, fluorescent light, incandescent light, and other types of illumination in a similar manner.

But actually, incandescent lights are redder and fluorescent lights are greener than daylight. If you shoot color slide film, you're aware of the off-color photos that can result. The photo lab can compensate for this effect when printing from negatives.

On your digital camera you may have these settings:

Sun: This setting balances the white light to the approximate value of 5500K found under normal outdoor conditions existing more than an hour or two after sunrise or before sunset.

Shade Under cloudy or shaded conditions, photos can pick up excessive blue tones. This setting balances white light to the 7000-9000K values, thereby warming up the light to more acceptable values.

Tungsten: Under incandescent lights, photos can appear very reddish. This setting balances white light to about 2800-3200K and renders indoor settings in a natural manner. This setting can be used outdoors in the few minutes just after sunrise or before sunset.

Fluorescent: Under this type of lighting, photos can appear greenish. The exact color depends on the type of fluorescent light tubes present. Most digital cameras have one or more fluorescent settings that remove the green light.

Manual: Allows you to create your own custom white balance setting.

Auto: All digital cameras have an automatic white balance setting that attempts to place the lightest tone as white. Although this setting is useful for most common shooting, it can be fooled in cases where no true whites exist in the scene that you are photographing.

from North Metro Photo News

Walt Fluegel, Grace Schrunk, and several others recently watched "At Close Range with National Geographic" which highlighted Joel Sartore, a wildlife photographer.

Walt Googled and checked into the web pages of NG photographers. He found eye opening realizations for any aspiring photographer.

Here are some quotes from Sartore's writing: "...being very persistent," "...being very type-A, obsessive-compulsive helped me a great deal..." "work hard, preferable for someone or some organization who will help you out in the business." "Run a ton of images through your camera." "Learn to accept criticism and use it to better your work." "...editors don't always have time to handle photographers with kid gloves when giving suggestions." "When you find another photographer whose work you admire, take time with their images to figure out what makes them tick." "...it's important to be curious about life..."

Walt continues that NG photographers do lots of research before going afield, and when there, shoot from 20K to 40K images (mostly digital) per article. NG pays an average of $400-$500 per day on assignment. But the photographer is expected to pay his or her own expenses including long distance phone calls, insurance, photographic and electronic equipment, travel, etc.

Editorially, perhaps only 10 to 24 images are finally chosen.

N4C Slate of Officers for 2007-2008

President - Bob Rude

I have been a member of the Iowa City Camera Club over 19 years, serving the offices of President and Vice President. I've been N4C Contemporary print/slide contest chairman. I enjoy entering N4C competitions in most print and slide categories, but Contemporary is my favorite.

I shoot mostly digital these days and really enjoy playing with my photos on the computer. I bought my first "real" camera – a Pentax K1000 – 25 years ago and moved up to a digital SLR 2 years ago.

I was employed at Whirlpool/Maytag/Amana Appliances for almost 29 years before my job was transferred out of state without me. I am now working for AGA, who bought the commercial microwave division from Whirlpool. I've been married to Sharon going on 20 years, and have two kids – Katy, 16, and Nic, 13.

1st Vice President – Curt Stoever

My name is Curt Stoever, and I live in Sioux City, Iowa. I've been retired from USWest for 11 years, and enjoy taking pictures. I've been involved with the Sioux City Camera Club for the past 13 years, and have been the N4C Representative for about 8 years. I was on the Convention Committee for the N4C Convention in Sioux City in 2000 and 2006.

I have been on the N4C Board for 8 years also, and have attended most of the N4C Conventions and Springbrook get-togethers, over the years. I have met a lot of great people there, and always learn new photography techniques at these conventions.

I enjoy NASCAR racing, and have taken pictures at Park Jefferson race track since it opened 21 years ago. I am also involved with the Make-A-Wish Foundation. I'm on the Sioux City local committee and serve on the State of Iowa Board.

2nd Vice President _ Dwight Tomes

Photography has been my favorite avocation since my college days many years ago. I recall that my first serious camera was an Argus C3 (my father's) and first subject our pet dog. The ability to make adjustments on this camera and viewing images that were sharper than those of previous cameras made a big impression. Later, composition and finding a venue to share photography became just as important. This need was satisfied after a jobchange brought me to Des Moines in 1982, where I joined the Des Moines Camera Club not too long after.

Our photo club contests have been a significant part of my club involvement because of being asked to submit a print for a club contest. I won a prize the very first time and of course I was hooked even though it was a while before I won anything again. I've been a board director of the Des Moines Camera Club for several years and have been responsible for several of our club contests (so there was an excuse to ask our members for their entries!). The most recent contest in our club has been the digital slide contest.

I've also been fortunate to win some recent "best of the best" contests in N4C and in 2003 won our club's "Image of the Year" contest. As a co-leader of the digital interest group, learning and watching the impact of this new technology on photography has been fascinating. I feel fortunate to be the current President of the Des Moines Camera Club and also a Board Member for N4C.

Secretary – Pat Schwope

I came to photography later in life, shooting my first roll of slide film in August 1990 for the St. Paul Camera Club's First Annual Photo Scavenger Hunt. In Fall Quarter 1993 I took a slide photography course prior to my graduation from the University of Wisconsin-River Falls. I am still shooting slides, and I have absolutely no desire to switch to digital.

For me, the joy of photography lies in discovering and taking the picture in the first place. Contemporary and Photo-Travel are my favorite slide categories. When I began taking pictures, I used Kodalith and Diazachrome to create contemporary slides. Now I enjoy the challenge of finding pictures the closeups of which can be used to create double mounts.

In my heart, my mission as a voting member of the N4C Board is to represent N4C slide and film photographers. I firmly believe that someone has to, because N4C has been promoting digital at the expense of slide and film photography for the past six years. There should be room in N4C for differences in personal photographic expression. N4C photographers should be enabled and encouraged in their craft, whatever form that may take.

Treasurer – Lynda Richards

Lynda Richards has served as Treasurer of N4C since 1999. She has been a member of the Des Moines Camera Club since 1984, has served as Newsletter Editor and President, and has worked with the Convention Committee several times. Lynda has owned a photography studio, Images by Lynda Richards, since 1986, photographing senior high students, weddings, families, and children.

N4C Slate of Directors for 2007-2008

Director #1 – Ed Siems

My name is Ed Siems. I live north of Marshalltown, Iowa, with my wife, Teresa Vokoun. I started my photography journey in the high school darkroom when I was 13. There was only black and white at the time. I did pictures for the annual and school paper. Had a little Bolsey camera that got me in trouble taking candid shots of teachers.

I entered and won a few contests while serving in the Marine Corps. I got away from photography until I met Teresa and we got married. We joined the Central Iowa Camera Club, and soon were competing in N4C. I have had images published in Iowa Natural Heritage magazine and on calendars. Our N4C friends are like family to us; can't wait for Springbrook or Convention to get together again. I have been Past President of CICC, Vice President, and the Field Trip Planner.

I enjoy nature photography, gardening, wood working, and travel. I am the Chairman for the 2007 N4C Convention, and hope to have a field trip stop at our nature preserve, which we call Asher Creek Haven.

I am enjoying all the new things I can do with digital without having to use the chemical darkroom. N4C has presented many new things to do with photography, panoramas, HDR and infrared to name a few. I have 3 grown sons, 4 granddaughters, and 2 grandsons, who I enjoy spoiling and photographing.

Director #2 – Ken Johnson

I have been a member of the Central Iowa Camera Club (Marshalltown, IA) for 13 years and have served several terms as president of that club. My 30 year old SLR was beyond repair. I was looking at auto-focus and auto-exposure SLR's and needed help. CICC members came to the rescue, I joined, and that step was as important as the camera selection to improving my photography. I have recently moved to Ankeny and now also am a member of the Des Moines Camera Club. It was a natural transition because I had already made many friends through N4C, and shared programs and judging between club members.

In my retirement as a mechanical engineer, I am fascinated with all aspects of digital photography. The N4C objective established 50 years ago for the "advancement of its members in the knowledge and practice of the science and art of photography" is just as relevant today.

Digital technology initiated a revival of photography with interest and educational opportunities abounding for clubs and N4C. As a Contest Chair, I have taken responsibility for fostering a new and popular N4C Digital Slide contest.

Director #3 – Darlene Kutzler

Darlene Gray Kutzler is one of the founding members of the Huron Area Photo Club. She has served as President, Vice President, Secretary, and N4C Representative for the club. Along with Bunny Gilbert, she publishes the club newsletter, which has won several N4C Awards. She has taught photography classes in the community and worked with 4-H as a judge for achievement days and has given workshops for 4-H Clubs. She also judges art and photography shows in the area.

A former teacher and coach for 24 years, Darlene now operates a photojournalism business, Freelance Photo Service. She is published in magazines, calendars, and books. Darlene and her husband, Buzz, operate an organic beef farm near Huron, SD. They have two daughters and four grandchildren.

Director #4 – Cecil Organ

I have been a member of the Iowa City Camera Club for a little over 12 years. I have served as Vice President for 3 years, and President the last 3 years. I have also served on the Board of Directors of the Solon Optimist Club for the past 5 years. I have been retired for the past 11 years, and spend a good deal of my time doing photography.

Director #5 – Gloria Johnston

Gloria has lived in Webster City, Iowa, most of her life, leaving only to attend the University of Minnesota. She returned to marry her high school sweetheart and they raised two sons. She has worked 37 years in the Medical Laboratory Field.

Her love of photography began in 1980 when her cousin visited from Houston with a 35 mm Canon and she was amazed to see how much better his family Christmas images were compared to hers. She bought a Canon and joined the Fort Dodge Camera Club. Today she belongs to the Ames Camera Club as well. Over the years she has participated in several Photo Tours.

Knitting, quilting, and biking are also hobbies of hers.

Director #6 – Linda Jameson

Occupation: RN

Biography of GARRY L. BRANDENBURG

Garry Brandenburg is a native of Iowa, a farm boy that grew up living and working outdoors. Wildlife and the habitats they live in have always interested him. He took these interests to Iowa State University in 1968, after spending the previous 4 years in the US Air Force.

At Iowa State, Brandenburg's major was Fish & Wildlife Biology. With a BS degree in hand in 1971, he secured a position with the Marshall County Conservation Board as their Director. He served in that capacity from June 1, 1972 until his retirement on June 30, 2004.

Brandenburg helped lead the Board through additional land acquisitions that added native prairies, more Iowa River forest lands and river access sites to the outdoor opportunities for the public. Conservation education was also added, an important service that eventually saw the design, building and staffing of a Conservation Center that opened to the public in October, 2003. This facility is now one of the premier attractions in Marshall County.

Brandenburg bought his first SLR Nikkormat while in the USAF at a base in Thailand. That camera, and lots of B/W film, helped lead him on a journey that helped him express his interests through the art of photography. Cameras helped him document the work of the conservation board and helped tell the public about projects, places and people.

Garry is especially interested in wildlife, landscapes, and the unique perspective that one can get from the vantage point of an airplane.

A private pilot since 1988, Garry is a co-owner of a Cessna Skyhawk based at Marshalltown, IA. A camera is always with him in the airplane.

Garry shoots mostly 35mm slide film through Nikons. A Nikon D-50 was added to his tool kit in January, 2006. Garry is an avid bow hunter, naturalist, biologist, canoeist, hiker and birder. In 2005, he traveled to Kenya and Tanzania for a three week long photo safari. Bow hunting excursions have taken him to Alaska, Quebec, Newfoundland, Montana, Wyoming, Texas, Arizona and South Dakota. Cameras are always with him to record the scenes and events. A return trip to Africa, this time South Africa, is planned for August, 2007.

Brandenburg has written an outdoors column for the Marshalltown Times-Republican newspaper since 1992. The column titled Outdoors Today features stories about outdoor adventures, wildlife, fishing, people outside and other natural history subjects. Photography helps tell those stories to the public and lead to an increased appreciation of the natural world we live in.

(PS Garry L. Brandenburg is not related, that he knows of, to Jim Brandenburg of Ely, MN. It is interesting to note how the backgrounds and interests of these farm boys are so similar and how photography was a major tool to help convey the message of conservation.)
