President's Message:

Hello, again! Another month gone by and a very good time at the Springbrook convention. It was great to see all our old friends and to make some new ones. There were 94 registered, but several didn't make it. The dorms were full with a little overflow.

The board meeting was held Friday afternoon. It was voted on to drop the 2 1/4 category starting 2012 as the number of entries has been falling. The 2x2 creative and photo journalism will also be dropped for the 2012-2013 year. We are also working on a code system for comments in the digital score keeping system. If you have ideas or suggestions on the comments you would like to see, contact Jerry Bonsack, bonsack@centurytel.net.

The programs were very interesting and informative. How so much photography information gets put into such a small time frame is amazing. Hope and Gerry Solomons' program was great; their images and knowledge of the places they travel is always interesting. Ken gave several programs. One was an overview of how to enter your images in N4C contests and was of great interest to some of the newer members. Others were on Geo tracking, Proshow Gold and using photography skills in family genealogy. David Graham {Red Green} from Sioux Falls gave a interesting and entertaining program on homemade photo accessories. We wish to welcome David and all the other first time Springbrook campers to attend next year and hope they all had a great time. I visited with several of the first-timers and they all said they would be back next year.

Wizard Jerry Bonsack had a great new laser fiber optic gizmo set up with a waiting line to try it out. The Des Moines Camera Club brought 5 or 6 setups and were busy all afternoon helping people collect images. Gene Schwope presented the awards won by N4C members in the annual international PSA camera council competition. N4C finished second overall and was first in the print category. The panorama contest had 19 entries and was judged on Saturday. Congratulations to all the winners.

Grand Time at Springbrook

It was a fantastic weekend for the 93 members who came to Springbrook this year. It was likely a record number and the weather was beautiful. Plans are already being made for next year. Put it on your calendar for April 27-29, 2012. Jerry Bonsack will be planning the programs, so give him any ideas and requests. Meister's have reserved the entire facility next year for N4C, so we will have more dorm rooms available.

If anyone has any questions arising from this year's program, contact me, Ken Johnson (web@n4c.us). We had an exceptional group of speakers with a wealth of information. I will put you in contact with the speaker or track down answers.

You should have been familiar with the graphic I used for Springbrook publicity. The grass and small flowers - were to represent the greening of springtime, the yellow lettering - that of sunshine, the deer - a common sight in the park, and the background of clouds - loved by photographers. The theme was further represented by this image. For those attending, N4C Springbrook was our world for about 40 hours. We were immersed - seeing, learning, thinking, practicing, talking, dreaming - everything related to photography. That was our little planet for the weekend. These little planets are fun to make in Photo-shop. Little Planet Tutorial: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0rbTE71PMYE>

As another mood setter, I showed this YouTube video - the "Jive Aces: Bring Me Sunshine". <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oXvJ8UquYoo> Certain to make you feel happy.

Please plan to come next year. We really do have a good time. We will also be getting together next in Topeka, Kansas September 9-11, 2011 for the N4C Convention hosted by the Topeka Camera Club. Check out the information on the N4C web <http://n4c.us>. After all, it is "Where Names Become Faces and Faces Become Friends!"

Yes, Comments Do Matter

I've learned to appreciate and try to emulate the skill(s) of some of the great photographers both past and present in N4C and in the Des Moines Camera Club. And yes, I have learned from the entries that have returned with comments from judges. Note that I didn't say I particularly liked some of those comments—but that I learned something in the process. Learning and growing is a lifelong process.

I've just finished a stint as the Editor of a scientific journal. I received about 300 manuscripts per year of which 75% were rejected. I learned very early that even a very poor manuscript deserves comments that will be of use for improvement.

Yes, I know that every submitted photograph is different and that the maker sees a story that flashes back when they see the photograph. But that's why we have competitions—to create an image that also tells a story to our friends. Comments other than “blah”, nice mat, or no comments just don't cut it. Ken Johnstone described a series of comments at Springbrook that are proposed to improve the way that we judge our photography so that we have more useful comments.

- BCP Background complements the primary subject.
- BDP Background distracts from the primary subject.
- CCI Clear center of interest.
- CFP Main subject is in sharp focus.
- EUC Effective use of a center of interest.
- GLL Great use of leading lines.
- HII High impact and interest to the viewer.
- LCI Lacks a center of interest.
- N+3 Good use of the rule of thirds.
- N-3 Consider moving the subject closer to one of the third points.
- NLL Image needs a leading line to pull you into the picture.
- NST Needs more saturation.
- NUC Needs more effective use of the elements of composition.
- OST Over-saturated.
- SFP One or more areas are not in focus.
- SFT Image is soft.
- SHP Image is very sharp.
- TLI Technically sound but lacking in interest to the majority of viewers.

These comments were very well received from those who attended Springbrook—at least better than no comments or comments that just don't make any sense. Below is 'Artist's pallet from Death Valley' just because there should be one image!

The Sore Loser.

WHAT you MISSED at SPRINGBROOK.....

(published as "Springbrook N4C Camp In 2011" in Women's Color Photo Club News and Views)

By Linda Rutherford

The N4C Conference held April 29, 30, & May 1 at Springbrook Campus near Guthrie, Iowa, began Friday afternoon with the N4C board meeting and we learned there will be a digital photo-travel category starting with the 2012-2013 year. In that year all projected images could be combined in one open category or be required to compete with digital images. Medium format slides are being eliminated. Decreasing the number of poorly entered contests makes more room for digital contests.

Gerry and Hope Solomons presented a travelogue on Asia for the evening program. Gene Schwope reported on the PSA camera council contest. This is a worldwide contest in which each council enters the best images in competition from the past year. N4C placed 2nd overall and 1st in the print division! The evening finished up with Ken Johnson talking about geotagging photos. Digital cameras these days come with the functionality to embed latitude and longitude into the photo's exif data (file info) and is useful to show where a photo was taken.

Saturday found early risers out photographing the sunrise and the many deer in the park and let me add that we had gorgeous weather all weekend. After breakfast there was a presentation on entering and conducting an N4C contest. It is important that standardized lighting is used by all clubs when judging prints. Ed Siems made several portable light stands for judging prints selling for ten dollars for the club representatives to purchase. David Graham gave a hilarious presentation on over-priced photostuff. He even made his own gimbal mount. Just look in a catalog and find out how much these cost.

There were breakout sessions on creating photo essays using a Mac or PC software. Jo Eland presented great tips for Mac users. We had time to do some photography before being served dinner. Besides flower arrangements under studio lights, there were many other still-life setups.

The N4C fall conference will be held in Topeka, Kansas, September 9, 10, and 11. Ty Smedes showed his recent songbird photos and Mike Landwehr gave a talk on bird photography basics. The evening finished with a presentation on restoring old family photos for a genealogy presentation.

Springbrook 2011 had a record turnout of 94 attendees, 26 of which were first-timers! It was announced that Chippewa Falls Camera Club has joined N4C. The dates for next year's N4C Springbrook conference are April 27, 28, and 29. Be sure to write these dates on your calendar. I will be submitting future articles on what I learned at Springbrook.

Panorama Print Winners on the Web

A panorama print contest was held at the April N4C Springbrook weekend gathering. There were 19 beautiful entries. If you have stitched together one of these monsters you realize the difficulty in viewing them in all their glory. It may not be as awesome as the prints, however the ability to zoom in and look at the detail is possible on the web. The winners are on the web gallery. http://n4c.us/panorama\_print\_2011.htm

The Zoomify viewer is a way to see the full resolution. Zoomify Express is a free program which breaks a photo into tiles and creates the files needed for uploading to the web.

Best of N4C Winner Roundup for Fall Topeka Convention

The deadline for receiving eligible entries for the Annual Convention Contest at Topeka, KS has been set.

First, Second, Third Place and Honorable Mention winners in all categories of the 2010-2011 monthly contests are eligible to be judged in the Annual Best of N4C Contest. Merit Award winners are NOT eligible.

Topeka Camera Club has established the deadline.

Entries must be received by July 1, 2011.

Eligible Digital Slide entries have been saved and do NOT need to be sent.

IMPORTANT: All prints MUST BE MOUNTED (on a stiff backing) for this annual contest. For loose prints they must be mounted on a stiff backing for year end display at the convention. Secure the loose print to the stiff backing by either double sided tape - across the top edge of the print or hinge them along the top edge, so the original print tag can be seen.

Print, 2x2 slide, and 2 1/4 slide winning entries are to be sent to:

Topeka Camera Club
Scott Udey
829 SW Orleans St.
Topeka KS 66606

785-235-2416

Lists are being sent to clubs having eligible slide and print entries. A list will be sent out in early May of all qualifying entries from the September through April contests so you can start the roundup. Later, a final list will be sent which will also include May winners. Lists will be sent by email to Club Presidents and N4C Representatives. Contact Jerry Bonsack bonsack@centurytel.net or 608-781-1582 if someone in your club has not seen a list by May 15 and think you should have eligible entries.

All prints received for this annual contest will be displayed in a convention salon and slides will be projected for those attending the convention.

Awards for the Best of the Best will be announced and presented at the N4C Convention banquet on Saturday September 10 along with Photographer of the Year, Clubs of the Year and other awards.

Thanks go to all the entrants, clubs, judges, and contest chairs. We will judge around 5,900 photos this year! Thanks also to Mary Jane Charlton who has kept the records of winners during the year.

Several people were interested in how the multi-point pendulum was set up at Springbrook. The inverted "V" and lower pivot points give the lower portion of the pendulum the mobility to swing in circles versus the straight line. By moving the upper tips, one can change the swing from a square pattern to a clam shell to a rectangle, combinations are endless, that is why I have one of the points on a movable resting point.
